The rise of the global economy has created a demand for people who understand the unique problems of international business—individuals with the strategic decision-making skills to deal with those problems. While broadening your knowledge of international business and administration, the curriculum also provides you with an opportunity to acquire a third language (other than English and French). In addition, students in the international management option must complete at least one semester abroad as part of an international exchange with a partner institution of the Telfer School of Management.

WHY SHOULD A STUDENT DECIDE TO STUDY INTERNATIONAL MANAGEMENT HERE RATHER THAN AT ANOTHER UNIVERSITY?

Ottawa is a very multicultural city and the University of Ottawa reflects that. We have a high-technology industry that is internationally oriented and provides many opportunities for students both during their studies and upon graduation. Our university truly allows students to develop their capabilities in more than just the English language.

WHY DID YOU DECIDE TO WORK AT UOTTAWA?

I am an alumnus of the University of Ottawa and am passionate about this city and this university.

DESCRIBE AN INTERACTION THAT YOU HAVE WITH YOUR STUDENTS OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM.

Presently I am involved with two different student groups who are developing and participating in international case competitions. These are excellent opportunities for students to make contacts with other students and with business people internationally.

WHAT WOULD BE YOUR ADVICE TO FUTURE STUDENTS?

Embrace your university education: it should be a transformative experience in your life and a time when you develop into the person you want to become.
