The Leadership Development Intensive is a highly experiential journey of self-discovery based on John Scherer’s Five Questions that Change Everything. It will challenge your current way of thinking and help you find your true source of effectiveness and sense of purpose. By building on your strengths and discovering new sources of capability, you will learn how to work with a greater sense of purpose, power, and peace. This program will help you become a powerful, positive force in your organization.

The program consists of a one-on-one goal-setting conversation with a facilitator prior to the program, a 3.5-day intensive in-class workshop and two group conference calls after the program to help you apply what you have learned and continue your development.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND
Executives and seasoned professionals from the private, public and non-profit sectors who recognize that breakthroughs in career success and personal effectiveness are discovered by examining the patterns and drivers of their own leadership behaviours and by developing an awareness of the possibilities that may arise from renewal.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN
