TELFER EXECUTIVE PROGRAMS

Telfer Executive Programs is the premiere provider of executive & leadership development programs across the National Capital Region, with a reach across Canada and internationally.

At Telfer's Centre for Executive Leadership, we offer highly experiential leadership development programs in which executives and senior leaders develop their skills and abilities to contribute to their organization's success and get to the next step in their own careers.

We are a team of professionals that co-create engaging learning experiences and organization development interventions that create positive impact, expand insight, and sharpen skills. Our learning programs, custom solutions, and interventions are designed specifically for executives and senior managers and offer a unique opportunity to foster individual, team, and organizational success.

Our instructors and facilitators include experts from the faculty at the Telfer School of Management, leading practitioners from our industry partners, and global thought leaders from partner educational institutions from across North America. At Telfer, we have a unique capability that combines the credibility and depth of an established post-secondary educational institution together with the agility and client focus of a start-up professional services firm.

Our Facilities

Located in the Centre for Executive Leadership in downtown Ottawa, we offer a world-class executive learning centre that promotes an optimal learning environment. We are pleased to offer our programs in our brand new facility.

We are constantly innovating to respond to your needs. For the most up-to-date list of our program offerings, please visit our website at telfer.uOttawa.ca/executiveprograms.

Custom Programs

We offer programs designed specifically to meet the needs of your organization, or for specific professional audiences. Our custom leadership programs are co-designed with your organization for delivery across the entire organization, within teams for small groups, and to individual learners seeking coaching and personal support in their learning journey.

Telfer School of Management

The Telfer School of Management, as part of the University of Ottawa, is a leading international centre for management education and research, and the proud academic, research and professional home of some 4,200 students, 200 full- and part-time faculty members, and 25,000 alumni. Our school has earned accreditations from the three most demanding accreditation organizations in the world: AACSB, AMBA and EQUIS. Achieving the highly coveted triple crown of accreditations places us in the top one percent of the world's business schools, and validates our success in surpassing the highest-possible standards for management education.
